

DEB BENNETT, Ph.D.

LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

I began publishing before I officially became “Dr.” Deb in 1984. The equine industry has been very kind to me over the past 30 years, with many monthly periodicals and publishers expressing interest in my work.

The following list includes both technical and popular publications, and lists some individual titles from various magazine series as well as books. Audio recordings, DVD’s, Videotapes, and Films are not included.

At left: My favorite friend and High School horse, Painty. He seems to be whispering into my ear, and I can tell you, that’s been my most valued source of knowledge.

Bennett, D.K. 1976-1988. How Horses Work: Conformation and Biomechanics, in: The Arabian Horse Express, Coffeyville, Kansas.

Note: The “How Horses Work” series ran for over 48 installments. The following represent a selection of titles:

- “The functional flat croup” (Feb. 1983; Vol. 6, No. 2)
- “More on the back: structure, growth, evolution” (June, 1983; Vol.6, No. 6)
- “Anatomy of the head set” (Aug., 1983; Vol. 6, No. 8)
- “Causes and cures for crooked legs” (Nov., 1983; Vol. 6, No. 11)
- “Case of the missing digits” (Dec., 1983; revised for Dec., 1986 issue)
- “Tracking hypertrophies” (June, 1984; Vol. 7, No. 6, Issue 2)
- “Size wise but foot foolish” (Sept., 1984; Vol. 7, No. 9, Issue 2)
- “The walk: foundation gait” (Oct., 1984; Vol. 7, No. 10, Issue 2)
- “Trots and transitions” (Nov., 1984, Vol. 7, No. 11, Issue 2)

“Conformation by breed” (Feb., 1985; Vol. 8, No. 2, Issue 2)

“What kind of an animal is a horse?” (Mar., 1985; Vol. 8, No. 3, Issue 2)

“Before Equus” (April, 1985; Vol. 8, No. 4, Issue 2)

“Broken-gaited horses” (May, 1985, Vol. 8, No. 5, Issue 2)

“Reining: historical introduction” (Aug., 1985; Vol. 8, No. 8, Issue 2)

“The corner turn: biomechanical microcosm” (Sept., 1985; Vol. 8, No. 9, Issue 2)

“Bibliography and acknowledgements” (Mar., 1986, Vol. 9, No. 12, Issue 2)

Bennett, D.K. 1977. Paleontology, paleoecology, and stratigraphy of the Rhinoceros Hill fauna, Wallace County, Kansas. Master’s Thesis, Department of Geology, University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas.

Martin, L.D., and D.K. Bennett. 1977. The burrows of the Miocene beaver Palaeocastor, western Nebraska, USA. Palaeogeography, Palaeoclimatology, Palaeoecology, 22(1977):173-193.

Bennett, D.K. 1979. Three late Cenozoic fish faunas from Nebraska. Transactions of the Kansas Academy of Sciences, 82(3):146-177.

Bennett, D.K. 1979. The fossil fauna from Lost and Found Quarries (Hemphillian: latest Miocene), Wallace County, Kansas. Occasional Papers of the Museum of Natural History, University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, 1979(79):1-24.

Bennett, D.K. 1980. Stripes do not a zebra make, part I: a cladistic analysis of Equus. Systematic Zoology 239(2):271-294.

Bennett, D.K. 1982. The Family Equidae, in: Mammal Species of the World: A Taxonomic and Geographic Reference, J.H. Honacki et al., eds., Allen Press, Lawrence, Kansas, pp. 308-9.

Bennett, D.K. 1983. Fossil Vertebrates, in: Kansas Geology, R. Buchannan, ed., The Kansas Geological Survey, Lawrence, Kansas, pp. 96-162.

Bennett, D.K. 1984. Cenozoic rocks and faunas of north-central Kansas, with an appendix concerning taxonomy and evolution in the genus Equus. Ph.D. Dissertation, Department of Systematics and Ecology, The University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas.

Bennett, D.K. (with Frank Wilson) 1985. The Land, in: Natural Kansas, Joseph T. Collins, ed., University Press of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, pp. 13-38.

Bennett, D.K., R.S. Hoffmann, and J.W. Koepl. 1985. Mammals, in: Natural Kansas, Joseph T. Collins, ed., University Press of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, pp. 195-210.

Bennett, D.K. 1984-1986 (series). Choosing a Riding Horse, in: Dressage and Combined Training, Cleveland, Oh.

Bennett, D.K. 1986. Conformation and the all-around usin' horse, in: The Maryland P.O.A. Gazette, Dec.-Jan., 1986.

Bennett, D.K. 1986-1989 (series). Selection Genetics, in: Modern Horse Breeding, Gaithersburg, Maryland.

Note: the following represent a selection of titles from this series:

“Hypothesis and the measurable: vital difference between genotype and phenotype,” Vol. 3, No. 2, pp. 19-23.

“Of sex and death,” Vol. 3, No. 3, pp. 20-24.

“How much does my mare contribute? Step by step through the equine genetic library,” Vol. 3, No. 6, pp. 22-27.

“The error of Henry VIII,” Vol. 3, No. 7, pp. 19-22.

“When a mare isn't a mare,” Vol. 3, No. 8, pp. 18-21.

In 2000, I began publishing important reports through Equine Studies Institute's official newsletter, "The Inner Horseman" (P.O. Box 411, Livingston, California, 95334 or Email Office@EquineStudies.org). These publications continued through 2007. The following represents a sample of the more important articles:

Text and Commentary of the 1832 Treatise on Bitting (“The Loriner”) by Ernesto Segundo — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (1), January, 2001

The Main Object in Starting Young Horses — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (1), January, 2001

On the Difference Between Rough Handling and Firm Handling — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (1), January, 2001

Review and Commentary on Michael Gershom’s “The Second Brain”: Ulcers, Colic, and Birdie Theory — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (2), June, 2001

The Trouble with Canter Departs: An Illuminating Correspondence — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (2), June, 2001

Relationship of Spinal Zones to Classical Manège Exercises — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (2), June, 2001

Black Beauty: History and Critique of the Classic Animal Rights Treatise — The Inner Horseman Vol. 5 (2), June, 2001

Maintaining Your Horse’s Soundness — One Step at a Time The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

Straight from the Horse’s Mouth: A Primer on Horse Teeth and Why You Need Equine Dentistry — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

“Cheape and Good Husbandry”: A Review of Gervaise Markham’s 1614 Text on Horse Training and Horsemanship — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

“The Modern Art of Taming Horses” — Additions to John S. Rarey’s deeply insightful and all too brief writings, 1856 — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

On the Purpose of Arena Figures — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

Review of Passive and Active Support Systems in the Equine Body The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

Muscular and Skeletal Layers Composing the Saddled Part of a Horse’s Back — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

Commentary and Translation of Gustav Rau’s 1935 Die Beurteilung des Warmblutpferdes (“Judging the Warmblood Horse”) — The Inner Horseman Vol. 6 (1), January 2002

Principles of Equine Orthopedics: Stance and Biomechanics, Part I (From the Coronet Upward to the Withers) The Inner Horseman Vol. 7 (1), January 2003, 130 pp.

Principles of Equine Orthopedics: Stance and Biomechanics, Part II (The World Within the Hoof Capsule). The Inner Horseman Vol. 7 (1), January 2003, 135 pp.

Commentary and Translation of Francois Baucher's 1842 New Method of Horsemanship. The Inner Horseman Vol. 8 (1), January 2004, 46 pp. and Vol. 8 (2) July 2004, 52 pp.

A History of Classical Horsemanship: Wilton House Hall with an Analysis of the 18th-century Paintings of the Baron Reis d'Eisenberg. The Inner Horseman Vol. 9 (1), January 2005.

Grand-Dad's Horses: What our Forefathers Valued in Livestock, and Why. The Inner Horseman Vol. 11 (1), January, 2006.

Conformation Study of Pre-Registry American Horses: Officers' Chargers of the American Civil War Era, 1855-1865. The Inner Horseman Vol. 11 (1), January, 2006.

Brief History of the Arabian Horse. The Inner Horseman Vol. 11 (1 and 2), January-June, 2006.

Brief History of the Classic Anglo-American Breeds: Morgan, American Standardbred, American Saddlebred, and Their Derivatives. The Inner Horseman Vol. 11 (2), June, 2006.
